

All of me for All of Us, is about the fight against cancer and the awareness of the chaos that it brings to so many families. It is about showing how much we care for those who's lives are change or lost by this disease.

I am looking for at least one hundred volunteers to contribute to this project. A book of people posing nude, in a simple setting or on a plain white backdrop, along with their message to the reader. It is the pose of your choice either nude or implied and the message that you write with your own hand.

The more volunteers, the sooner we publish, the faster and stronger the fight will be against this deadly disease.

The last page will be my contribution with my personal message to the reader Because I too have family who either lost their fight against or were attacked by cancer, so I am hoping that the fruits my efforts can be shared by us all.

No-one will be solicited directly or pressured into being part of this project, but only the contributors will share the pride of making a stand.

All profits will be donated to the Canadian Cancer Society in the names of the contributors.

Your message Here
- Dedicated To
a loved one
- A poem I wrote
- what my feelings are
- A message to
victim or survivor

Translated Here
English to French
OR
French to English

This is a mock layout of the page each contribution may be on one page or two facing pages all depending on the size if the message and the pose.

Other than the sitters no one will have the occasion to view neither image nor personal message. All sitters may view at anytime the contents of the project however the images will not be match with the message until publishing.

You will be expected to sign a release form but may revoke it at any time before publishing and any contributions will be removed from the project.

Show the world how much you care!

Contact: portraite@imagefx.ca or via text 438-580-7243.